Business Development Consulting Services: Through a broad range and diverse set of business development services, we help clients improve and grow their business with a focus on working ON your business.

Business Valuation: There are a variety of reasons that business owners and management may need to know what their business is worth. Some of those needs arise with the occurrence of a specific event, while others are somewhat elective in nature. SH&A Consulting Group will assist you in both situations.

Forensic Accounting: Billions of dollars are lost by businesses each year due to fraud. The perpetrator may be that valued and trusted employee who has been with the company for years, or the new vendor everyone loves. Whatever the case may be, your company is probably more susceptible to fraud than you think.

Human Resources: Our professional human resource consultants focus on the needs and concerns of your organization. We can help you solve problems, deliver results, and increase the value of your business.

Information Technology: Our business is to listen . . . analyze . . . design . . . then implement an Information Technology system that will meet your demanding needs for today and the days ahead.

Payroll Processing: We want to be your payroll solution. We offer direct deposit, tax deposit options, prepare all tax filing and complete year end requirements.

What is a Certified ProAdvisor?

Certified QuickBooks ProAdvisors are CPAs, accountants, and other professionals who work with small businesses. ProAdvisors are QuickBooks experts who have completed a comprehensive QuickBooks course and take exams annually in order to become certified. We can get you started on the right foot, aid in set-up, training and troubleshooting...or help you move from your current accounting system to QuickBooks.

We can help you determine:

- Whether using financial software can save you time.
- Which edition of QuickBooks is the best for your unique business needs.
- How to accurately track expenses and income.

QuickBooks users who get help through a ProAdvisor or accounting professional have a higher satisfaction level with QuickBooks. Whether you need help setting up and customizing QuickBooks, learning how to more efficiently use the software, or gain better understanding of the financial data you currently have in QuickBooks, we are available to help.
